Profiles

Profiles for Colorado printers can be found in the Onyx Media Manager, or at csa.canon.com/support.

Lamination

The best way to help ensure protecting the print is to encapsulate the image. Cold pressure laminates are recommended.

Finishing Recommendations

Wait 24 hours after printing to apply an overlaminating film. This information is presented as a general guide and is not a performance guarantee. The user should independently determine prior to use the suitability of the material for the specific purpose.
